

'Beyond Beginnings' Calderdale Framework planning workshop

South Island Directors of Allied Health and Calderdale Framework Facilitators came together in Christchurch on May 23 for a focused planning session charting the course for the South Island Allied Health Implementation of the Calderdale Framework for the coming year. Entitled 'Beyond Beginnings', the workshop opened with recognition of the many successes of the preceding year and showcasing work from the Christchurch Hospital project led by Sandy Clemett. Key areas were then discussed in the following three sessions – Building Capacity, Building Projects, & Building Processes. This was followed by a working session for Facilitators on CTI development, concurrent with an opportunity for the South Island Directors of Allied Health, the governance group for the Calderdale Framework implementation, to meet as a group and finalise the future direction and priority activities.

As part of the day, the achievement of 8 Facilitators who have now completed their Calderdale Framework Facilitator training was celebrated with presentation of certificates and a shared lunch. The Facilitators were trained by Queensland Health Calderdale Framework Practitioners Alison Pighills and Annette Scott who along with other Queensland colleagues have been a great support in the establishment of a South Island Calderdale Framework 'community'.
